

Parish & Town Council Meeting

Stratford-on-Avon Electoral Review

What is an electoral review?

The Local Government Boundary Commission for England is responsible for conducting reviews of local authority arrangements. We will be holding a meeting with parish and town councils in Stratford-on-Avon District Council to discuss our ongoing electoral review.

Stratford-on-Avon has significant imbalances in electors between wards, the Commission has therefore decided that it should review Stratford-on-Avon in advance of the elections in 2023.

We are holding a community briefing on Tuesday 30 March 2021 to give more information on our electoral review of Stratford-on-Avon.

All members of the local community are welcome to attend this open event, where we will be explaining the process of an electoral review and how you can have your say.
